

Bishop Terence E. Coleman was ordained as a Minister of the Gospel in 1988 under the Midwestern District of the Pentecostal Assemblies of the World (PAW), Inc. He is an anointed preacher, teacher and television/radio minister, pastoring the Greater Pentecostal Church of God since 1989. Formerly an integral part of the PAW, Bishop Coleman served as Foreign Missions Director, Assistant Treasurer, Assistant General Secretary, and as a member of the Ordination Committee. In 2009, he was consecrated Bishop in an anointed service performed by Bishop Wayne T. Jackson and other men of God.

Bishop Coleman graduated from the Gateway College of Evangelism with an Associate's Degree in Theology, and has contributed so tremendously to the body of knowledge and effective ministry, that in March 2009, he was conferred an Honorary Doctorate of Divinity from St. Thomas Christian College; an unexpected honor by God's favor! He has received certification in Administrator's Training from the School of Tomorrow, and as a Certified Journeyman Carpenter, Bishop Coleman uses all of the knowledge and skill the Lord has blessed him with, to build and strengthen the ministries of other churches.

With a world-wide vision for reaching the lost, both he and Prophetess Sheila Coleman have ministered internationally. He preaches, teaches and baptizes in South Africa, the Philippines and Russia, traveling abroad to help establish churches.

Bishop Coleman partnered with the Latter Rain Tent Crusade in 2003, providing school supplies, clothing and food to local families. He is founder of the Little Saints Child Development Center, and in 2005 established the Kingdom Care Community Development Corporation to address needs in Metropolitan St. Louis. Annually, he sponsors re safety education for children, and consistently hosts e orts to help strengthen the community.

Bishop Coleman was duly recognized by the 27th Ward, receiving the 2005 Earl E. Howe Award for Community Service.

As an author, Bishop Coleman has written e Apostle's Doctrine, giving clarity to students of the Bible on the teachings of Jesus, and The After Care Ministry, written to address the Church's necessity of continued care and discipleship for new Christians. His illustrated sermons and other creative e orts, under the anointing of God, have resulted in a tremendous in flux of souls. Bishop Coleman is happily married to Prophetess Sheila Ann Coleman, a beautiful woman of faithful service and dedication to God. They are the proud parents of two children, a son Ryan and daughter, Nyla, who are also blessings to the body of Christ.
